2004 Fall Meeting

You Say Cookies, I Say Biscuits: An Exploration of Metadata and Controlled Vocabularies

Saturday, October 2, 2004
Bastyr University
Hemlock Room (#1062)
14500 Juanita Drive NE
Kenmore, Washington

Fred Leise, owner and principal of ContextualAnalysis, LLC, offers consulting services in metadata and controlled vocabulary development, information architecture, and Web site indexing. He is currently engaged on a major controlled vocabulary development and training project for the Social Security Administration's PolicyNet. Fred has been a part-time freelance indexer since 1995, specializing in scholarly works in the humanities, with a focus on international affairs and Far Eastern civilization. His index for PeopleSoft.com was awarded an Australian Society of Indexers 2002-2004 Website Index Award. Check out his Web site at <http://www.contextualanalysis.com/>.

Agenda

Saturday, October 2

8:30 a.m. Registration and Continental Breakfast

9 a.m. Welcome/Business Meeting

9:45 a.m. Break

10 a.m. You Say Cookies; I Say Biscuits

In the context of corporate content management systems for Intranets and Web sites, we will discuss the role and importance of metadata and will explore how controlled vocabularies can enhance both precision and recall in information retrieval, allowing users to find the information they need more quickly and efficiently.

Finally, we will review a user-centered methodology for creating metadata architectures and accompanying controlled vocabularies, expanding on the basic indexing skills of concept identification and term selection. Hands-on exercises throughout the day will allow workshop participants to become more comfortable the concepts and techniques discussed.

9 a.m. PNW/ASI Board Meeting
2213-138th Avenue S.E., Bellevue (Carolyn Weaver's house)

All PNW/ASI members are encouraged to attend the board meeting. Driving directions will be provided at the conference.

Directions

Bastyr University is located at 14500 Juanita Drive NE in Kenmore, northeast of Seattle. The directions below were taken from Bastyr's Web site.

Southbound on I-5 (from Vancouver, B.C.)

1. Take EXIT 177 (Lake Forest Park) onto Ballinger Road NE.
2. Follow Ballinger Road NE for about 3 miles to Hwy 522, also called Bothell Way.
3. Turn LEFT on Hwy 522/Bothell Way to 68th Avenue NE in Kenmore.
4. Turn RIGHT on 68th Ave NE, which becomes Juanita Drive NE, and follow it south to sign on the right indicating Bastyr University (NE 145th).
5. Turn RIGHT and follow drive until it forks. Continue straight ahead until you reach Bastyr University.

Northbound on I-5 (from Portland)

1. Take EXIT 175 (NE 145th) and turn RIGHT at the end of the exit ramp onto NE 145th.
2. Follow NE 145th to Hwy 522/Bothell Way.
3. Follow instructions #3-5 above.

Southbound on I-405

1. Take EXIT 23/Hwy 522 (third Bothell exit).
2. Follow Hwy 522 west to 68th Ave NE in Kenmore.
3. Turn LEFT; continue on 68th Ave NE, which becomes Juanita Drive NE. Follow it south to sign on the RIGHT indicating Bastyr University.
4. Turn RIGHT and follow drive until it forks. Continue straight ahead until you reach Bastyr University.

Northbound on I-405 (from the airport)

1. If coming from Sea-Tac Airport, follow the signs to the freeway, then specifically to I-405 North.

Once on I-405 North:

2. Take EXIT 20A (NE 116th) and turn LEFT at the end of the exit ramp (98th Ave NE only). Follow NE 116th to the second signal light (98th Ave NE) and turn RIGHT onto Juanita Drive NE. Follow Juanita Drive NE for 4 miles to sign on your right for Bastyr University. Turn RIGHT and follow drive until it forks. Continue straight ahead until you reach Bastyr University.

Directions and a map is available on the Bastyr website (www.bastyr.edu) weekdays). An

Transportation

Buses (Mass Transit)

Bus service is not available to the Bastyr University area. If you are traveling with another attendee or taking a shuttle if you're flying into Sea-Tac, the "Taxis and Shuttle Services" section below) serves the Bothell area. For more details, see the section on the next page of this packet for more details.

Taxis and Shuttle Services

The Seattle area has a host of cab companies, but the two that provide service are Orange Cab, (206) 522-8800, and Farwest Taxi, (206) 622-1717. A word of caution: The cab companies in the Seattle area charge for "wait time," an extra fee per minute while waiting for traffic lights to turn green or when

Shuttle Express is the major airport shuttle service in the Seattle area. It provides door-to-door service from Sea-Tac Airport to your hotel, home, or office and vice-versa. When scheduling rides to the airport, plan for a pick-up at least two hours in advance (also remember to add time to get through the security checkpoints at the airport). For fees and reservations, call (206) 622-1424 or toll-free, (800) 487-7433.

Airport Express provides shuttle service from the airport to downtown Seattle sites only. For more information, call (206) 628-6088.

Other Numbers

Amtrak (303 S. Jackson Street, downtown Seattle), (800) 872-7245
Greyhound Bus Lines (811 Stewart Street, downtown Seattle), (800) 231-2222
Genie Tours (between Eastern and Western Washington), (800) 814-2902

Airlines:

Air Canada, (888) 247-2262
Alaska, (800) 252-7522
Delta, (800) 221-1212
Horizon, (800) 547-9308
Northwest/KLM, (800) 225-2525
Southwest, (800) IFLYSWA [(800) 435-9792]
United, (800) 241-6522

Need a ride?

Check the Pacific Northwest Indexers Listserv (INDEX-NW) at indexing@lyris.pnl.gov for more information or contact Carolyn Weaver, PNW/ASI President, at cgweaver@weaverindexing.com.

Lodging

Indexer Inns and a wide variety of hotels are available near Bastyr University.

Indexer Inns

Indexer Inns are local folks with a spare bed or couch to offer. These were created in 1999 to help out-of-towners reduce travel costs and network with other Pacific Northwest indexers. If you are interested in hosting or staying in an Indexer Inn, contact Bart or Andrea Arenson at bartarenson@yahoo.com or (206) 522-1291.

Hotels/Bed and Breakfasts

Your Guide to the Puget Sound

compiled by Cheryl Landes and Carolyn Weaver

Welcome to the Puget Sound! We hope you enjoy your stay here and that this guide will help you make the most of your visit to our beautiful corner of the Pacific Northwest.

This guide focuses on attractions in Bothell and the Eastside, where the PNW/ASI meeting is located, as well as the University District and downtown Seattle.

Attractions

Eastside

The Eastside (Woodinville, Bothell, Kenmore, Kirkland, Redmond, Bellevue, and Issaquah, in geographical order from north to south) refers collectively to the communities east of Lake Washington that are along the I-405 corridor north of Renton. Because city boundaries are not readily apparent and much of the area is unincorporated, this section of our travel guide is grouped functionally, rather than by city.

Bookstores

Barnes & Noble and Borders are both well represented on the Eastside. Check the phone book for the location nearest you.

Half Price Books, Records & Magazines (Crossroads Shopping Center, Bellevue), (425) 747-6616

Parkplace Books (348 Park Place Center, Kirkland), (425) 828-6546

University Bookstore (990-102nd Ave. NE, Bellevue), (425) 462-4500

Libraries, Museums, Theaters, and More

Bellevue Regional Library (1111 110th Ave. NE, Bellevue), <http://www.kcls.org>—One of the four regional libraries for the King County Library System. The largest library on the Eastside, located in an award-winning building in downtown Bellevue.

Bothell Historical Museum (9919 NE 180th St., Bothell), (425) 486-1889, <http://www.Bothellmuseum.homestead.com/home/html>—Showcases its collection of turn-of-the-20th century furnishings, pioneer relics and historical photographs in an 1885 one-room schoolhouse and the 1893 Hannan House.

Kirkland Arts Center (620 Market St., Kirkland), (425) 822-7161 <http://www.kirklandartscenter.org>—A venue where art lovers can admire the works of up-and-coming and established talent.

Kirkland Performance Center (350 Kirkland Ave., Kirkland), (425) 893-9900 (tickets), <http://www.kpcenter.org>.

Rosalie Whyte Museum of Doll Art (116th 108th Ave. NE, Bellevue), (425) 455-1116, <http://www.dollart.com>—Located next door to the Bellevue Regional Library, the museum is the caretaker of more than 3,000 dolls and miniatures.

The Theatre at Meydenbauer (11100 NE Sixth St., Bellevue), (206) 325-6500 (tickets), <http://www.meydenbauer.com>.

Village Theatre (303 Front St. N., Issaquah), (425) 392-2202 (tickets), <http://www.villagetheatre.org>—Professional theatre with a community theatre feel!

Shopping

Bellevue Square (NE 4th and NE 8th Streets, Bellevue), <http://www.bellevuesquare.com>—A destination for over 16 million visitors a year, featuring over 200 upscale stores and restaurants. One of the nation's first enclosed malls.

Boehm's Chocolate Candy Factory (255 NE Gilman Blvd, Issaquah), (425) 392-6652, <http://www.boehmschocolate.com>—Get your chocolate fix in Issaquah! See the Candy Kitchen and enjoy the Old World charm of the Edelweiss Chalet. A scenic chapel is on the grounds.

Carillon Point (Kirkland), <http://www.carillon-point.com/frames.html>—Shopping and fine dining at the Kirkland marina on Lake Washington.

Country Village (238th St. and Bothell-Everett Hwy., Bothell), (425) 483-2250, <http://www.countryvillagebothell.com>—A charming village with specialty shops, restaurants, galleries, and a day spa featuring brick pathways, gardens, and duck pond.

Crossroads Shopping Center (156th Avenue NE and NE 8th Street, Bellevue), <http://www.crossroadsbellevue.com>—More than 50 specialty store and national retailers, plus a food court with an international flair.

Gilman Village (317 NW Gilman Blvd., Issaquah) <http://www.gilmanvillage.com>—A unique shopping experience located just off I-90. Over 40 independent shops and restaurants, located in old rescued and restored Issaquah buildings

Winery tours

Chateau Ste. Michelle (1411 NE 145th St., Woodinville), (425) 488-3300, <http://www.ste-michelle.com>—The wine is excellent, and the grounds are magnificent!

Columbia Winery (14033 NE 145th St., Woodinville), (425) 488-2776, <http://www.columbiawinery.com>—Across the street from Chateau Ste. Michelle.

For Nature Lovers

Bellevue Botanical Garden (12001 Main St., Bellevue), (425) 452-2750, <http://bellevuebotanical.org>—A delight for the eyes regardless of the season!

Cougar Mountain Zoological Park (19525 SE 154th St., Issaquah), (425) 391-5508, <http://www.cougarmountainzoo.org>—Home of some of the world's most endangered animals.

Molbak's Greenhouse and Nursery (13625 NE 175th, Woodinville), (425) 483-5000, <http://www.molbaks.com>—A travel destination for gardeners! The 10-acre site features plants that flourish best in the Northwest, as well as a lush conservatory of tropical plants.

Snoqualmie Falls (off Highway 202, north of Snoqualmie)—One of Washington's most popular scenic attractions for centuries. Towering 268 feet above the riverbed below, Snoqualmie Falls is actually 100 feet higher than Niagara Falls!

Now that you've "done" the Eastside, cross the floating bridge to...

University District

Sample the life of a college student while exploring quaint shops, bargains, and inexpensive eateries in this area surrounding the University of Washington. The major highlights are listed below. For more information about places to eat, see the "Restaurants" section later in this guide.

Burke Museum (University of Washington campus, 17th Avenue N.E. and N.E. 45th Street)—This small museum displays Northwest Coast artifacts, fossils, gems, minerals, and dinosaurs. The adjoining café is an excellent spot to enjoy gourmet coffee, pastries, and desserts. The museum doesn't charge admission to eat there, unless you want to see the exhibits. Hours are 10 a.m.-5 p.m. Monday-Wednesday and Friday-Sunday, 10 a.m.-8 p.m. Thursday. Admission is $8; the first Thursday of each month is free. For more information, call (206) 543-5590 or visit the museum's Web site at <http://www.burkemuseum.org/>.

Henry Art Gallery (University of Washington campus, 4100 N.E. 15th Avenue)—The oldest public art museum in the state, Henry Art Gallery features changing exhibits of historical and contemporary art. Hours are 11 a.m.-5 p.m. Tuesday-Wednesday and Friday-Saturday, 11 a.m.-8 p.m. Thursday. The café is open 9:30 a.m.-4 p.m. Tuesday-Wednesday and Friday, 9:30 a.m.-7:30 p.m. Thursday, and 11 a.m.-3:30 p.m. Saturday. Admission is $8, except for 5-8 p.m. Thursday, when you can enter the gallery at no charge. For more information, call (206) 543-2280 or visit the gallery's Web site at <http://www.henryart.org/henry.htm>.

Jet City Improv (5510 University Way N.E.)—Audience participation dictates the performances here. A group of men and women perform a 90-minute show based on suggestions from the audience on Friday and Saturday nights. The last Friday and Saturday nights of each month are devoted to "Twisted Flicks," when the troupe performs its own version of a movie soundtrack recommended by the audience. Performances are at 10:30 p.m., and admission is $10. For more information, call (206) 781-3879 or go to <http://www.jetcityimprov.com/>.

Museum of History and Industry (2700-24th Avenue E.)—This museum focusing on Seattle's history south of the University of Washington is worth a visit, especially on a rainy day. Stroll through an 1880s street scene with wooden storefronts, and view displays of memorabilia from the 1962 World's Fair and the former Seattle Rainiers baseball team. Hours are 10 a.m.-5 p.m. daily, and admission is $7. For more information, call (206) 324-1126 or visit the museum's Web site at <http://www.seattlehistory.org/>.

Public Art Walking Tours—The Seattle Arts Commission has created a guide of two self-guided walking tours of the art and architecture of the University District. For complete maps and details on each attraction along each route, go to the commission's Web site at <http://www.cityofseattle.net/arts/publications/publicart/walkingtours/udistrict.asp>. These guides are in .pdf format, which requires Adobe Acrobat Reader. If you do not have Acrobat Reader, a free download is available at <http://www.adobe.com/products/acrobat/readstep2.html>. (Also, please note that Adobe changed the name of Acrobat Reader to Adobe Reader.)

University Village (2673 N.E. University Village)—This upscale open-air mall is a shopper's delight, even if you're just window shopping. You'll find everything from kitchen accessories to office supplies. Here's just a small sampling of the shops here: Banana Republic, Barnes and Noble, Molbak's, Pottery Barn, Restoration Hardware, and Williams-Sonoma. For more information, call (206) 523-0622 or visit the mall's Web site at <http://www.uvillage.com/>.

Varsity Theatre (4329 University Way N.E.)—This movie house across the street from the University Book Store offers a changing assortment of first-run movies, as well as independent and classic films. Admission is $6 for matinees (before 6 p.m.), $9 afterward. For movie times and more information, call (206) 632-3131.

Washington Park Arboretum (2300 Arboretum Drive, E.)—Nicknamed "the Arboretum," this 230-acre park is considered one of the most beautiful floral, tree, and shrub collections in the Northwest. Spring is a beautiful time to wander along the trails, where the blossoms from rhododendrons, azaleas, magnolias, heather, mountain laurel, and dogwood grace the landscape. Trail maps are available at the Visitor's Center, which is open from 10 a.m.-4 p.m. daily. The arboretum's hours are from dawn to dusk daily. For more information about the Arboretum, call (206) 543-8800. Details about the arboretum are also available at <http://depts.washington.edu/wpa/>.

The arboretum is also home of the Seattle Japanese Garden, 3.5 acres of miniature forests, mountains, bridges crossing trickling streams, tranquil ponds, ferns, mosses, flowering shrubs, a tea house, and an azumaya (resting place). Demonstrations of the Chado, an ancient tea ceremony, are scheduled monthly. The garden is open from March 1-November 30 starting at 10 a.m. daily. Closing hours range from 4-8 p.m., depending upon the season. Admission is $3. For more information about the Japanese garden, call (425) 861-7865 or visit its Web site at <http://www.seattlejapanesegarden.org/>.

Downtown Seattle

Few downtown areas compare with Seattle in diversity. Many residents describe life here with the old cliché, “having the best of both worlds.” It seems like downtown has a split personality, because although it is a bustling mix of offices and retail establishments, it hasn’t lost touch with its natural side. One minute you’re enjoying the glamour of browsing well-known retail giants, such as FAO Schwartz, Eddie Bauer, Niketown, and Nordstrom along Fourth, Fifth, and Sixth Avenues. The next, you’re walking along the Waterfront, exploring mom-and-pop shops in wooden buildings weathered by the salt air of Elliott Bay and filled with Northwest antiques and crafts. As you walk from pier to pier, the panorama of the bay and the Olympic Mountains captures you.

Not only is Seattle a rich mix of modern metropolitan architecture and outdoor beauty, it is also rich in history. Buildings dating back to 1889—the year Washington became a state—are still standing in the Pioneer Square district. Many are now filled with gift shops and art galleries that attract thousands of tourists and local shoppers annually.

The city offers dozens of sightseeing opportunities. Here are the highlights.

Seattle Center—Enjoy a 360-degree view of downtown, Lake Union, Mount Rainier, and the Olympic Peninsula from the Space Needle observation platform or in the rotating Sky City Restaurant. The restaurant makes one complete rotation every hour. Space Needle hours are from 9 a.m.-midnight daily, and admission to the observation deck is $12.50. There’s no extra charge for the observation deck if you have restaurant reservations, which, by the way, are strongly recommended. Call (206) 905-2100 or (800) 937-9582 for more information or to make reservations. Restaurant reservations can also be made online at <http://www.savvydiner.com/>. You can also find information about the needle at <http://www.spaceneedle.com/>.

The Pacific Science Center, also at the Seattle Center, has a variety of hands-on displays demonstrating various scientific principles, including what it feels like to be in an earthquake. The IMAX Theater has a daily laser light show and runs films covering a wide range of scientific topics. Hours are from 10 a.m.-6 p.m. Tuesday-Sunday. The Pacific Science Center is closed on Mondays. Admission to the center is $9.50 for adults; there is an additional charge to see shows at the theater. For more information, call (206) 443-2001 or visit the center’s Web site at <http://www.pacsci.org/>.

The Experience Music Project (Seattle Center, under the Space Needle at Fifth Avenue and Broad Street) was built by Microsoft co-founder Paul Allen to share his love of music. Highlights include Allen’s collection of Jimi Hendrix memorabilia, one of Elvis Presley’s black leather jackets, and other artifacts from the early days of rock ‘n roll. You can also learn to play an instrument, mix music, or simply jam with other people in the Sound Lab. Hours are 10 a.m.-5 p.m. Sunday-Thursday, 10 a.m.-9 p.m. Friday and Saturday. Admission is $19.95. For more information, call (206) 770-2700 or visit the organization’s Web site at <http://www.emplive.com/>.

Pike Place Market (First Avenue and Pike Street)—The best way to describe this shopping center is that it’s like a daily Saturday Market, only much bigger. Browse outdoor booths and indoor shops for fresh fruits and vegetables, fresh seafood, and Northwest crafts. Specialties include handmade wind-up toys, clothing, pottery, paper crafts, and jewelry. Buy professional photographs of Seattle tourist spots with or without frames. A favorite shop here is Read All About It (93 Pike), which sells newspapers and magazines from practically everywhere in the world. For more information about the market, call the administrative office at (206) 682-7453 or visit the market’s Web site at <http://www.pikeplacemarket.org/>.

Seattle Art Museum (100 University Street)—Enjoy fine architecture and a variety of art exhibits, ranging from Northwest Indian sculpture to modern art, at this museum one block south of Pike Place Market. Special exhibit schedules vary. Hours are 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Tuesday, Wednesday, and Friday through Sunday, 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. on Thursday. The museum is closed on Monday. Admission is $10. For current exhibit schedules and general information, call the 24-hour recording at (206) 654-3100 or visit the museum's Web site at <http://www.seattleartmuseum.org/>.

Bank of America Tower (701 Fifth Avenue)—Enjoy the panorama of Elliott Bay, downtown Seattle, the Olympic Peninsula, and Mount Rainier from the tallest building west of the Mississippi River. The viewpoint is on the 72nd floor of this 73-story brick black glass skyscraper affectionately named the “Darth Vader Building” by the locals. Hours are 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Monday through Friday, and admission is $5. For more information, call (206) 386-5151.

Smith Tower (506 Second Avenue)—Here you can get a bird's-eye view of Pioneer Square, Elliott Bay, and the Olympic Mountains from the city's oldest skyscraper, built in the 1920s. Admission is $6. Hours vary; for more information, call (206) 682-9393. You can also check the hours on the tower's Web site at <http://www.smithtower.com/>; click on the Observation Tower button to access the schedule.

Pioneer Square—In addition to the quaint shops and art galleries, find out more about the history of Seattle at two tourist sites. At the Klondike Gold Rush National Historical Park (117 South Main, across from Occidental Park), learn how the discovery of gold in Dawson City, Yukon affected Seattle's economy at the turn of the century. In this indoor park, see dramatic pictures of stampedes carrying supplies on the Chilkoot Trail in Alaska, lucky prospectors holding pans filled with gold, and a floor-to-ceiling photograph of the SS Portland, which broke the news of the gold rush when it arrived in Seattle with a ton of gold and some 60 miners from Dawson City in July 1897. You'll also see a display of the ton of food, clothing, and equipment the Northwest Canadian Mounted Police required each person to carry into the Yukon because supplies ran short there during the long, cold winters. Other displays include goods sold in Seattle and old newspaper articles about the gold rush. Watch four, 25-minute slide shows about the history of the gold rush, Seattle's role during the gold rush, hiking today's Chilkoot Trail, and Pierre Berton's recollections of his life in Dawson City in the park's vaudeville-style theater. (Berton is best known for his historical books about the gold rush.) Hours are 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. daily, and admission is free. For more information, call (206) 553-7220.

The Underground Tour takes you into five square blocks of deserted buildings dating from the late 1880s. At that time, the streets were at ground level. Backed-up sewage and muddy, often impassable, streets were constant problems, because most of the Pioneer Square district was at or below sea level. From 1891 to 1905, the streets were elevated to the second story - from eight to 35 feet - on wood, brick, or stone trestles. Soon the ground-level businesses were abandoned and covered at the second story. The tour starts at Doc Maynard's Public House, where guides provide a lively 20-minute history of early Seattle and its founders. From there, you go underground to visit three old businesses: the Scandinavian American Bank, where you'll walk through the former safe; the Mechanics Store, a mercantile; and the Bijou Theater. The tour ends at a small museum in the basement of the Howard Building filled with photographs, drawings, and newspaper clippings of Seattle's early history. Tours are offered daily, but schedules change monthly; see <http://www.undergroundtour.com/> for current times. Admission is $10. For more information, call (206) 682-4646.

More information about the Pioneer Square neighborhood is available at <http://www.pioneersquare.org/>.

Waterfront (Alaskan Way)—In addition to browsing antique and gift shops, check out the Seattle Aquarium (Pier 59) and watch a 30- to 35-minute movie at the IMAX Dome Theater next door. The Aquarium has thousands of species of fishes and other marine life, including some very playful otters in one of the outdoor exhibits. The IMAX Dome Theater shows a number of nature films, ranging from a documentary on whales to exploring the Grand Canyon, along with its ongoing feature, “The Eruption of Mount St. Helens.” This film takes viewers on an airplane ride into the dome of the crater when it was erupting in 1980. Aquarium hours are 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. daily and admission is $11. For more information, call (206) 386-4320 or visit the aquarium's Web site at <http://www.seattleaquarium.org/>. Admission is $7 and movie times vary; call (206) 622-1868 or go to <http://www.seattleimaxdome.com/>. If you're watching shows at the IMAX Dome Theater, you must arrive on time; there are no late seatings. A combination ticket to the aquarium and the theater is available for $16.50; both activities must be completed on the same day.

My favorite shop along the Waterfront is Ye Old Curiosity Shop (Pier 54), an interesting mix of souvenirs and offbeat displays. The strangest exhibit is a shrunken head. For hours, call (206) 682-5844.

Argosy offers one-hour narrated harbor tours departing from Pier 55. Enjoy views of downtown Seattle, Puget Sound, and the Olympic Mountains as the boat circles Elliott Bay. Tours are scheduled several times daily and vary throughout the year. Tickets can be purchased at the ticket booth at Pier 55. For schedules and fares, call (206) 623-1445 or go to <http://www.argosycruises.com/general/default.htm>.

Bookstores: University District and Downtown

Barnes and Noble—There are two locations: 600 Pine Street in downtown, (206) 264-0156, and in the University Village, (206) 517-4107.

Border's (1501 Fourth Avenue, downtown), (206) 622-4599—I recommend this store for its variety of consumer software books. You'll find lots of useful guides on how to use all of the popular software products currently on the market. Trade books on other topics are sold here as well.

Brentano's (Westlake Center, downtown), (206) 467-9626—This is a national bookstore chain featuring a wide variety of topics for all ages and a magazine section with the most popular national titles. Major local magazines are also sold here.

Bulldog News (4208 University Way N.E., University District), (206) 632-6397—A great place to find newspapers and magazines from around the world. You can also pick up a latte or espresso here as well.

Elliott Bay Book Company (First Avenue and South Main, Pioneer Square), (206) 624-6600—This is the largest bookstore you'll find downtown. It has hundreds of titles ranging from antiques to Northwest travel. A coffee/pastry break in the café downstairs welcomes shoppers who want to take a break from browsing the hundreds of titles available here.

Read All About It (93 Pike, downtown), (206) 624-0140 (see information about Pike Place Market earlier in this section)

University Book Store (1225 Fourth Avenue, downtown), (206) 545-9230—This is one of three bookstores operated by the University of Washington (the others are in the University District and in Bellevue). The downtown store is an excellent place to find a variety of textbooks, especially in the high-tech field. The one in the University District (4326 University Way N.E.), (206) 634-3400, has a wide variety of consumer books, textbooks, magazines, Husky mementos, gifts, and art supplies. The address for the Bellevue store is 999-102nd Avenue N.E.

For more information about other sightseeing activities in the Seattle area, stop by the information booth on the second floor of Westlake Center, or call the Greater Seattle Chamber of Commerce at (206) 389-7200.

About the compilers

Carolyn Weaver

An Eastside resident since 1987, Carolyn is the owner of Weaver Indexing Service, specializing in health, behavioral, and social science books and journals. She was an academic medical librarian for more than 35 years (including nine years as a moonlighting indexer) before moving to full-time indexing in 2000. When not indexing or hanging out at Bellevue Square, Carolyn is an aficionado of RV indexing, with the ultimate goal of visiting every antique mall and state and national park west of the Mississippi. (She's already done Washington and Oregon!)

Cheryl Landes

In addition to working as a full-time indexer and technical writer, Cheryl Landes has published two travel books (Beautiful America's Seattle and Beautiful America's Idaho), along with more than 100 Northwest travel, history, and recreation articles in magazines and newspapers throughout the United States and Canada. Her latest book, Those Wild Northwest Days, is a collection of 25 stories about the life and times of the early pioneers and towns in the Pacific Northwest.
